Adoration Chapel/Birthline Update: After consulting a few independent contractors regarding the current needs of the building, we've discovered two things: 1) the water damage and potential mold problem are not as bad as we originally anticipated; and 2) the cost to fix these issues is going to be relatively low. Thus, we've made the decision to go ahead and make the appropriate repairs so that we can get Adoration and Birthline back up and going! We will keep you posted as to when both of these will be back in the building. Thank you for your patience and your prayers!

Capital Campaign Update: Graycon Building Group (our general contractor) will be setting up a staging area across the street this week (on the old high school parking lot) with a portable construction office, portable restroom and dumpster. In addition, the contractor, roofer and architect will be making a final inspection of the church roof, dome and towers so that we can begin roof replacement and masonry work the following week. Thank you all for your support and prayers as we are about to begin this important work to our church!

"Fully Alive as Missionary Disciples" How often do we turn to Jesus in prayer with a very specific request? "Please heal my mom." "Please help me get this job." "Please ease my suffering." We can look at the request of James and John in today's gospel and recognize the self-centered nature of their question. Jesus, rather than rebuking them, simply invites them into his suffering, and tells them that if they want honor they must become servants of all. Being fully alive as missionary disciples means that we, too, are willing to put our self-centered requests to the side. Instead, we can ask God to help us serve others (and HIM!) to the best of our ability. Then, our prayers might sound more like this: "Please give me the mind and heart to care for my mother through her death." "Please give this job to the person who needs it the most." "Please help me use this suffering to grow in love for you and others." Prayer is one of the pillars of stewardship, and is most certainly a way we can serve God and others!
